

Imaging Overview (continued)

Image Processing

The Image Processing System or IPS, is divided into two main functions, a Preliminary Image Processing function and Final Image Processing function. The IPS receives input from the scanner or Network Interface (DFE).

